Program Student Learning Outcomes

Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLO) are statements that specify what students will know, be able to do or be able to demonstrate when they have completed the program.

1. Upon completion of the Vocational Nursing program, students will be able to understand basic knowledge and skills, such as conducting physical assessments, performing wound care, performing bladder catheterizations, administering oral, sublingual, and topical, transdermal, and parenteral medications, conducting range of motion exercises, assisting with ambulation techniques, managing and monitoring of enteral feedings and certain aspects of respiratory care, providing mental health care.
2. Student learning outcomes are evaluated through the use of rubrics for each specific procedure that is required of the vocational nurse. In addition, faculty employs the use of formative evaluation through the use of critical thinking vignettes. Summative evaluation is done through post conference discussions, written work assignments, and through online discussion threads.
